UCCA REJECTS TUCKER CARLSON’S FALSE NARRATIVE

On September 30, Fox News host Tucker Carlson asked his viewers “Why wouldn’t we be friends with Russia? …No one has ever explained that to me… Why should I as an American be in favor of [aiding Ukraine]?” On his November 14 broadcast, Mr. Carlson further declared, “Russia poses no threat to the United States at all.” And on November 25, Mr. Carlson exclaimed “Why do I care, why do I care what is going on in the conflict between Ukraine and Russia? …and I’m serious. Why do I care? Why shouldn’t I root for Russia, which I am.”

For years, Russian propaganda outlets such as RT and Sputnik have attempted to undermine U.S. support for Ukraine by insidiously proposing that Ukraine seeks to harm the United States. As he has by now repeatedly demonstrated, Mr. Carlson seeks to compliment this narrative by not only sowing doubts about the U.S.-Ukraine strategic partnership, but by consistently proposing an unequivocal capitulation to Vladimir Putin’s Russia — the greatest existential threat not only to the United States and Ukraine, but also to the entire post-World War II global security structure.

The Ukrainian Congress Committee of America (UCCA), the largest representation of Americans of Ukrainian descent, categorically rejects this false narrative. According to the United States’ 2017 National Security Strategy, “Russia wants to shape a world antithetical to U.S. values and interests… to erode American security and prosperity… [and] to weaken U.S. influence in the world and divide us from our allies and partners.” In contrast, the 2008 U.S.-
security, prosperity and freedom” and that security cooperation partnerships between the United States and Ukraine “are of benefit to both nations.”

In repeatedly failing to condemn the Russian Federation’s ongoing invasion of Ukraine, Mr. Carlson has demonstrated a shocking ignorance of Russia’s international crimes. As loyal and patriotic Americans, we demand to know if this anti-Ukrainian messaging is the official position of Fox News, and if it is not, why has Fox News not yet suspended Mr. Carlson as they did earlier this year for making other unfounded statements.

To Whom It May Concern:

I write to you in dismay after having watched a segment from the November 25 episode of Tucker Carlson Tonight. On that evening’s broadcast, Mr. Carlson declared “Why do I care, why do I care what is going on in the conflict between Ukraine and Russia?... and I’m serious. Why do I care? Why shouldn’t I root for Russia, which I am.”

As a loyal and patriotic American, I write to Fox News asking if this the official position of your network, and if it is not, will you suspend Mr. Carlson as you did earlier this year for making yet another unfounded statement.

It is my understanding that Tucker Carlson Tonight has lost 70 advertisers in just the last year. I am making the informed decision not to support companies that advertise on Tucker Carlson Tonight until Fox News addresses Mr. Carlson’s Pro-Putin stance. I will not watch Fox News until such time.
