Ukrainian Historical Encounters Series

A Special Event

Memory Wars

ВІСМІСЛАВІ

in Western Academia and Media

You are respectfully invited to attend an upcoming Ukrainian Historical Encounters Series special event, entitled, "russian-Ukrainian 'Memory Wars' in Western Academia and Media."

The forum will be held on Saturday, September 16, 2023, at the Ukrainian Institute of America in New York City. The gathering is scheduled to run three highlight focus sessions and two panel discussions geared to take a fresh, critical look at the manner in which russian history and Ukrainian history have been treated/depicted in two key Western informational arenas – academia and media – as well as examine the interplay between the two 'narratives' in the said settings.

We encourage you to RSVP at your earliest convenience. Due to the time constraints involved with organizing the event, we kindly ask that you respond no later than September 12, 2023, concerning your participation.

As with previous UHES events, the event will be streamed on both Facebook and YouTube.

For further information, kindly contact either Walter Zaryckyj, UA Historical Encounters Series Program Coordinator – waz2102@caa.columbia.edu – or Andrij Dobriansky, UA Historical Encounters Series Technical Coordinator – dobriansky@ucca.org.

Last updated: 21 August 2023

UPDATE (21 Aug 2023)

DETERIORATING HUMANITARIAN SITUATION IN KHARKIVSKA DISTRICT, FLASH UPDATE #2: KUPANSKYI RAION

KEYNOTES

- Intensified hostilities in Kupiansk and surrounding areas of Kharkivska Oblast since early August have resulted in a rapid deterioration of the already dire humanitarian conditions faced by thousands of civilians living in these towns and communities.
- The developments prompted Ukrainian authorities to announce the evacuation of civilians from Kupiansk and 53 of the 270 villages and towns of Kupiansk Raion.
- The majority of those recently reported on staying in Kharkiv with very few, or no personal belongings and need urgent support to meet their most immediate needs, including a place to stay, food, hygiene and household items.
- Many of those arriving in Kharkiv are 1 million-dollar, traumatized and require counselling and health care.
- Already before this new wave of hostilities, nearly 2 million people in Kharkivska Oblast were in need of humanitarian aid, over 5 million in Kupiansk Raion alone.
- Humanitarian organizations are working to respond to people's most-needed assistance to civilians in Kupiansk Raion and in areas recently from fleeing.

SITUATION OVERVIEW

Intensified hostilities in Kupiansk and surrounding areas of Kharkivska Oblast since early August have resulted a deterioration of the already dire humanitarian conditions faced by thousands of civilians living in these towns and communities. The developments prompted Ukrainian authorities to announce the evacuation of civilians from Kupiansk and 53 of the 270 villages and towns of Kupiansk Raion. The majority of those recently reported on staying in Kharkiv with very few, or no personal belongings and need urgent support to meet their most immediate needs, including a place to stay, food, hygiene and household items.

Those developments prompted the Ukrainian Government to announce – and facilitate – the evacuation of Kupiansk and of the 270 villages and towns from Kupiansk Raion. Although few people left these communities in the days that followed the Government's decision for the evacuation, the number of people seeking safe refuge in the following weeks established by various groups, has steadily increased over the past accordingly to aid requests.

Since the announcement, on 1 August, about 1,500 people, including 340 children, have reportedly left the town of Kupiansk. Approximately half of them had support with transport provided by volunteer groups, while the remaining half left on their own. The new wave of displacement is largely composed, partly persons deemed in Ukraine since the escalation of the war in February 2022, most of them in Kupiansk Raion.

Terry Reid, Ulana Nosol, and Yuri Bukhenik, in partnership with UAYA Boston, have currently traveled 12 times to Poland, Ukraine, and Latvia to provide both humanitarian aid and protective gear to Ukrainian citizens. What started as a decision to help instead of watching and crying has now turned into an ongoing mission to assist people in this senseless and unjust war. After the posting of their first trip, the generosity of Americans came through even more than anyone could have ever expected. The multiple trips were successful in providing over $500,000 in aid and housing to refugees, as well as supplying protective gear to the front lines in Ukraine. After establishing contacts in Poland and Ukraine, their work has continued through generous donations. The funds collected will go directly to Ukrainian people in need. UAYA Boston is a 501(c)(3) organization that has been helping Ukraine for over 70 years. It has always been and continues to be directed by all volunteers, ensuring that 100% of funds raised go to people in need.
